

RUNAWAY.—Was committed to the jail of Washington county as a runaway, on the 4th instant, a negro man, who calls himself EDWARD J. BROWN, sometimes Sad Nelson Brown. Is about 36 years of age, five feet seven or eight inches high, stout made, quite black; has lost some of his front teeth; has a scar on his left leg; says he is a free man from Charlestown, Virginia, and had his home with John W. Gardner; had on, when committed, a mixed cloth coat, black cloth pants, black slouch hat, new shoes; his feet very much swollen from travel. The owner of the above-described negro is requested to come forth, prove his property, pay charges, and take him away, else he will be discharged agreeably to law.
